Lightswitch designer, how to access a new form's viewmodel from parent form? I have created a new form (called searchResultsForm) which has a sub-form with a few columns on it (comboBoxes, text boxes, Date and DateTime) and a few buttons. I also have a controller with properties for each of these columns. I have exposed all of these properties to the designer so that the designer can access them. The problem is that when I use the designer I cannot reference these properties, they are greyed out. Any idea how I can reference them from the parent form? A: I solved this by creating a new view model for the new form. Then I referenced that view model in the designer form and it worked fine. When $\mathbf{\phi}$ becomes a true eigenvector of \mathbf{J} , \mathbf{D} will also be a true eigenvector of \mathbf{J} . \mathbf{D} being a true eigenvector of \mathbf{J} will result in an infinite number of solutions (since \mathbf{J} is square). The limit of \mathbf{D} then tends to $\pm \infty$. Similarly, when the degeneracy is removed by increasing ϵ (ϵ is the strength of the degeneracy), the limiting state will be defined by $\mathbf{D}=0$. Finally, we conclude that when ϵ is sufficiently
